

People Moves: Century Risk Advisors Adds Sawyer

Independent insurance and risk management agency Century Risk Advisors has named insurance and financial executive Doug Sawyer to serve as Commercial & Private Client Advisor for Strategic Relationships.

Doug Sawyer

Sawyer is responsible for expanding the firm's presence in the financial, commercial, and wealth industries where he will work to connect these markets to CRA's insurance services.

Prior to joining CRA, Sawyer held numerous executive level positions with South Florida financial institutions, having overseen commercial lending, asset management, private banking, retail, and bank support divisions. Sawyer is a former holder of seven different securities and insurance licenses and currently holds a general agent's insurance license as well as a certificate of certified financial planning from Florida State University.

Formed in 2013, Century Risk Advisors (CRA) offers corporate insurance, risk management, employee benefits, and private client services and serves the real estate, aviation, non-profit, legal, financial, parking, technology, and life science industries as well as various municipalities.
